Amber warning
Rain

Between 12:00 Tue 23 Feb 2021 and
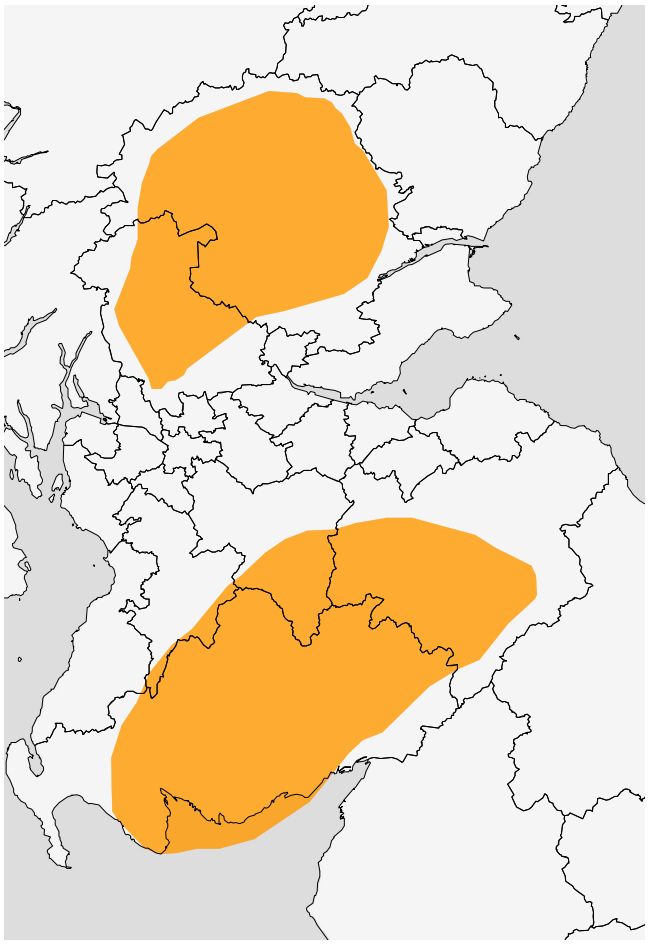
12:00 Wed 24 Feb 2021



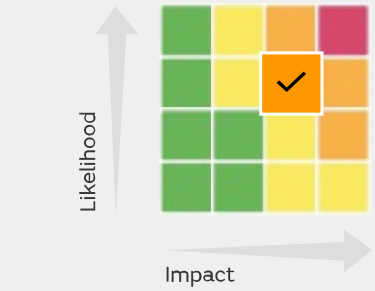
Persistent heavy rain on saturated ground bringing further flooding.

What to expect

- Homes and businesses are likely to be flooded, causing damage to some buildings
- Fast flowing or deep floodwater is likely, causing danger to life
- A good chance some communities cut off by flooded roads
- Delays and some cancellations to train and bus services are likely
- Spray and flooding probably leading to difficult driving conditions and some road closures

Further details

A spell of persistent and often heavy rain will affect much of Scotland during Tuesday and Wednesday. Rainfall accumulations of 40 to 60 mm are expected quite widely across the warning area with a few places possibly seeing 80-120 mm in a 24 to 36 hour period, although there still remains some uncertainty in peak totals. Drier conditions will arrive from the west during the second half of Wednesday. Strong southerly winds are likely to accompany the rain.



Medium likelihood of medium impacts
